

- Neo4j maintains an internal `<id>` property for all nodes, so we give our Netflix-given IDs a different property/attribute name
- Properties without an explicit type can be assumed to be strings
- The INT type is actually normalized into LONG by Neo4j; we choose INT here just to indicate that we don't need that many bits (even fewer, in fact)